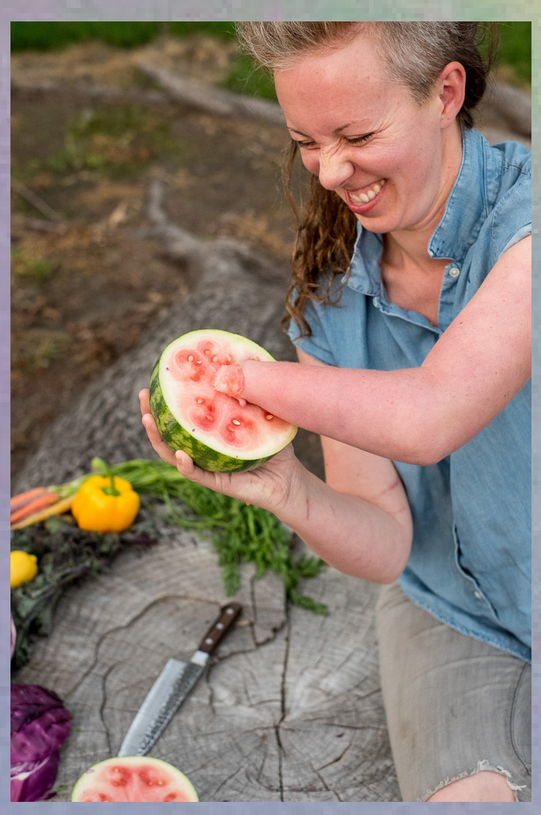
Alexis Hillyard

Jr. High Electives Teacher


Alexis absolutely LOVES being a part of the WISE community! She teaches the Cooking Elective on Monday and is a substitute teacher for all Waldorf grades. Alexis and her partner Alison (who also teaches at the WISE), just had their first child (Jovan) in May, so she's been busy loving new-mom life! In addition to being a new mom, Alexis is also a YouTube Creator, self-taught vegan cook, and entrepreneur. Born without her left hand, Alexis uses her stump as a kitchen tool - from spatula to juicer - while expanding the vocabulary of what's possible in the kitchen each week on her show 'Stump Kitchen.' She strives to bring the joy from her cooking show to her cooking elective students each week! In her free time, Alexis loves to go on exploratory nature walks and camping trips with her family.
